HEALTH BENEFITS OF BEER...

Beer is rich in important vitamins - the Vitamins B1, B2, B6 and H (biotin - which prevents hair loss) contained in beer are food for the nerves: they improve your ability to concentrate, support the production of red blood cells, have a positive effect on your blood circulation and stimulate your metabolism. The hops in beer have a calming effect on exhausted nerves and relax your muscles. A Munich study concludes: "The life expectancy of people who drink beer in moderation is longer than that of those who abstain." And, in an opinion poll of German general practitioners, 81% were convinced that one or two beers a day "beautify" retirement.
